

Welcome to the World of Construction

Where one size, fits all...

Why love Construction?

- The construction industry is such a huge and diverse industry, that has a tremendous impact upon economies all around the world.
- This industry offers a wide range of highly rewarding, and fascinating, job roles for both male and female individuals.
- No day is ever the same when working in construction. Every construction project contains its own uniqueness, making construction such an interesting industry.

Job roles within the industry

Project Manager

£28,000 - £65,000

Plans/oversees all aspects of a project
Manages programme/time
Organise people/tasks /resources

Environmental Consultant

£22,000 - £60,000

Undertake environmental assessments, field surveys and collect data and share them to relevant parties
Look at the suitability of new developments
Manage legislative issues for clients and maintain an awareness of how legislation impacts projects.

Quantity Surveyor

£30,000 - £80,000

Manages all contractual aspects
Manages all costs
Monitors any job changes
Completes measures of the job

Design Manager

£28,000 - £66,000

Develops design intent
Influences the delivery of design on site
Manages individual designers such as the architect and structural/civil engineer

Architect

£27,000 - £40,000

Creates designs for new projects, alterations & redevelopments
Use specialist construction knowledge/ high-level drawing skills to design buildings
They ensure projects are functional, safe, sustainable/aesthetically pleasing

Engineer

£35,000 - £60,000

Gives technical advice and quality control
Completes levelling/surveying on site
Checks drawings & accuracy calculations

Construction is for everyone.
Discover more online at www.nawic.co.uk